Byte Size Coaching
“The Vision for Youth Soccer Development”

Coaches of players from 6-years of age to 11-years of age are generally volunteer parent coaches, most of which are new to coaching and may not have played the game of soccer.

You will be surprised how much parents do know and how simple it is with the help of the 25+ years professional coaching experience of *Tony Waiters and his staff.

Tony is a British & Canadian citizen and is also the holder of a U.S. Green Card. He trained as a Physical Education teacher at Loughborough College of Physical Education, England before entering professional soccer. During his playing career, Waiters enrolled as a student at the Blackburn College of Management, England, where in 1971 he became a Graduate of the British Institute of Personnel Management (GIPM).

Since 1984, Waiters has authored 14 best-selling coaching and teaching manuals and has written and directed the production of 5 instructional videos. Much of the content of the books and videos is now contained within Byte Size Coaching, but major updates and new games and activities have been added to ensure that Byte Size Coaching is a complete, balanced, age-and developmental-appropriate program.
