How the Tournament Works

Borrowed from the Netherlands, this tournament format is designed to emphasize enjoyment for players and to limit adult involvement to organization. The players are in charge of the games. They decide what position to play, what format to play, who plays in goal, etc.

- Although teams register for the tournament, players will not play on these teams
- For each game, players are randomly allocated to a field where they meet four other players
- They play a series of 5v5 games, where they earn individual points based on the team results
- At the end of the series of games, the players with the three highest points totals win prizes
- Two rounds are played on Saturday and two rounds are played on Sunday
- Coaches assist only as facilitators, you will not coach a team
- Parents are asked to cheer and be supportive only - Please do not coach the players

REGISTER TODAY: DEADLINE IS JULY 25

*We are currently working on having the Canadian Soccer Association's Technical Director and former National Team coach Stephen Hart and Sean Fleming, Director of the National Training Centre -Prairies attend the tournament.
